

Viva Las Vegas Africa

In celebration of its 15th birthday, Emperors Palace will be offering an extravaganza of Las Vegas style stakes from July to September, with R5.5 million in cars, cash and prizes to be won, including two all expenses paid trips to Las Vegas.

Until the end of September, South Africans can experience thrilling Vegas-inspired gaming and entertainment at the Palace of Dreams, Gauteng's own Vegas of Africa, on the very doorstep of O.R. Tambo International Airport.

General Manager Nigel Atherton says that Emperors Palace would like to thank its guests for their phenomenal support over the past 15 years. "Our birthday gaming celebration at Emperors Palace is intended to show our appreciation to South Africa's gaming community. Our guests can look forward to a true experience of Vegas style. Viva the Vegas of Africa!"

Viva Las Vegas is not only about gaming. With great deals on offer in the Entertainment Emporium, Emperors Palace is now the home of Sunday Lunches during this birthday period. Enjoy delicious meals at favourite brand name restaurants for R49.99 or less at all participating outlets in the Emporium. There is something for everyone, free movie tickets, mystery jackpots, free meals at the Queen of the Nile for children under 12 on Winna Wednesdays, special treats for senior players and much more.
